Alex Meyer

Alex Meyer holds a B.A. in History from Saint Mary's University, an M.A. in International Administration from the University of Miami, and a J.D. from the University of Miami School of Law. During law school, he interned in the Children and Youth Law Clinic and the Environmental Justice Clinic, gaining practical experience in legal advocacy while serving underrepresented communities.

Before joining MDK Law, Alex served as in-house counsel for large healthcare organizations. In those roles, he provided strategic legal support on a broad range of matters, with a particular focus on transactional work, regulatory compliance, and risk management. This experience enabled him to collaborate closely with business teams to advance organizational goals while navigating the distinct regulatory and operational challenges of the healthcare industry.

A Midwest native, Alex now calls the Pacific Northwest home and enjoys exploring its beautiful landscapes through hiking scenic trails and skiing in the Cascades. He is licensed to practice in Florida and Washington.
